CERTIFICATE

Uzoma Maduakolam

has participated in the

Busch-Jaeger Hackathon 2022

at the XU Exponential University of Applied Sciences from November 11th until November 12th, 2022
The Event was held in cooperation with Busch-Jaeger Elektro GmbH

During the event, students worked in groups to complete the following task:
"The objective is to develop a market intelligence approach which should deliver information about the market size, the market development, and the market share of Busch-Jaeger in comparison to its main competitors. This might include first quantitative results."
